He was an inveterate reader of dime novel literature, and under its influence developed into a hoodlum with astonishing impidity and at once instituted a propagand t for the increase of hoodlumism. The secret, oath-bound society with plenty of daggers, shulls and crossbones, particularly inflamed his imagination, and he soon found no difficulty in organizing ten other boys, between eleven and fifteen years of age, into an association bearing the startling nume of "The Society of the Silver Skulls" These rampageous idiots armed themselves with revolvers, each they intended to take the road and levy toll upon the people of Ohio, to go "a burging," to tender their services to the Chinese Government or to invade Manitoba and wrest it from the Domin ion and innex it to this country Whatover their purpose, it was something dark and terrible is the following blood cuidling outly, which was written by the youngster who disappeared, will

A Queerly Qu'et Time-Peace Preserved by Peculiar Methods NIW ORITINS April 2 - The election jesterday was a series of surprises. Hill & Co., manufacturers of hog rings and supplies; Line & Scruggs, dry goods merchants; John Ullrich, wholesale grocer; L. L. Ferrise & Co., wholesale and retall shoe dealers; the Thatcher Lumber Company; George Priest & Co., millers; Young Bros. & Marie, wholesale grocers; Bacon & Saxton, printers, and Morehouse, Wells & Co., wholesale and retail hardware dealers. The object of the meeting was to have a conference about freight rates, and by united action, if possible, secure an equalization of the same in the interest of the business prosperity of Decatur. It was not called to "burst the Decatur railway pool," but simply to secure a rate in some degree as low as the rates given the business men of Peoria and Bloomington. John Ullrich was made chairman of the meeting, and H. H. Bishop secretary. There was a free interchange of views as to what should be lone toward lowering the freight rate from New York to Decatur, but no organization was effected. The only thing done was to appoint a committee to wait upon the Decatur merchants and shippers and give all an opportunity to join the organization which is to be known as the "Decatur Merchants' Exchange," Another meeting will be held soon to effect he organization by the election of officers. THE DECATUR BATES. It will be of special interest to the gen-rat reader to give the freight rates now in force, showing the unjust discrimina-tion against Decatur in favor of Peoria and Bioomington. The rates are based on 100 pounds from New York to Decatur, and are as follows: New York to Decatur, first class

	• •		24	4.5		. 31

The figures speak for themselves, an certainly Decatur merchants and shippers are justified in taking united action against the manifest upjust discrimination. In union there is strength.

DECATUR township was not represented at the state convention of road commissioners held at Springfield yesterday. E. M. Haines presided and made a long speech in favor of better country roads. There has been a good deal of wind on this important subject of late and the bellows have been handled principally by Phoeion Howard and Mr. Haines. They ought to be able soon to form some feasible plan and present it to the public.

In the whole United States there is not a flavoring extract that is so valuable, so positive, so effectual in producing the most delicious, desirable and delecate flavored cakes, pastry, ice cream, etc., as Dr. Price's justly celebrated Special Flavoring Extracts: Almond, Lemon, Vanilla and aromatic flavors. Those who subscribe $5.00 to the guarantee fund will be given complimentary ticket for the use of themselves and family, dur-ing the fair. MAN ABOUT TOWN

That big rustic monument at Strohm's ard, which has attracted so much attenion, is not to ornament the center of the old square. The G. A. R. have not yet raised the money for the proposed monument. The plans are not yet fully formulated. The stone stump weight 9,000 ounds. It goes out of Macon county.

I notice that most of the lumber and portion of the machinery for the sinking of the new coal shaft north of the Midand depot are on the ground. Supt. White will boss the job, aided by a competent assistant. The new shaft will be over 600 feet deep and it will take about I4 months to finish the job. Many addi-tional men will find steady employment luring the summer and fall.

Somebody reported that John Thomas who is under bonds for having shot H. W. Downing, had left the city. I find the story is untrue. John Thomas is in the city, and has no intention of leaving the community.

I find the Arthur-Lincoln combination has a good many supporters in these parts. There are Logan and Blaine men in these diggings, and they are thick in all parts of the country, but neither candidate will have enough delegates to carry off the prize at Chicago, and perhaps the 1880 racket will be repeated for awhile at least. In such case, it will be in order for all the "strong" men to withdraw and let Arthur and Lincoln be nominated by acclamation. Arthur has made a good president and he would carry New York and the doubtful states.

Dr. W. M. Harsha, our present county physician, is a graduate of the Normal School at Lebanon, Ohio, which is represented by Prof. Holbrook, now in Decatur. Gen. Bloomfield, of Bloomington, is also a graduate of the same institution A proposition is made to locate a similar institution in Decatur, and I believe i The sum of $20,000 is asked of our citi zens by the college people, to be used in the erection of a main building, to which will be added $25,000 by the Lebanon people to put up suitable dormitories. In case the institution does not have an average attendance per annum of 200 students the college people agree to turn over all the buildings and grounds to those con-tributing $20,000. This is one of the best offers that has yet been made to Decatur. and I think the business men and others interested in the substantial growth of the city will cheerfully aid in the effort to capture the Normal. Its advantages to the families of this section will be great in many respects, and the students in at tendance will swell the volume of busines n a great measure.

I notice that David Hutchison the law ver of lively imagination and easy flow o Decatur Turners' invitation entertainment which will be given at the opera house to-morrow night. David is a good talker "one of the finest." Overseer Newell has plenty of applications for help every day. He says the number now pulling at the strings of the others coul, others, becon and, groceries and in the main he tries to do right, see ing that the really needy ones do not sut fer and that the professional beggars a passed on to the next town. Y. W. C. T. U. The first sociable of this society was held at the residence of Mrs. E. C. Reese. 411 North Water street, last evening, and was largely attended, the spacious rooms being crowded. A fine supper was served, elegant music enlivened the affair, and a good time was had. Mr. Harry Moore was fortunate enough to get the piece of cake in which the darning needle was concealed, and as according to the traditions of the Y. W. C. T. U. the one who draws that prize is doomed to a life of bachelorhood, a vote of sympathy was tendered him by the members-all young ladies. Mr. Will Quinlan was more fortunate, getting the slice in which was the ring as a penalty for which he was required to make a speech, and to break the "little brown jug' in which was the money contributed during the evening. Nine hon-orary members were voted in. These pleasant social affairs will be continued.

Chicago Musical College.

The regular fourth term of the College will open on Monday, April 21. This will be the last term before the summer vacation. On Wednesday, April 23, there will be a Chopin recital given by Miss Hitchcock. A short biographical sketch of his life will also be read. Violin selections and vocal numbers by Prof. Olof Bull and Miss Alice Freeman. The proggrammes will be wholly Chopin. Pupils and their parents are cordially

OUR FLORIDA LETTER.

GAINESVILLE, FLA., April 18, '84. EDS. REPUBLICAN: -Thinking that some of your readers are glad to hear from this for-off sunny land, and not wishing to entirely cease for the columns of the Republican.

It is hardly necessary to speak of the weather, for it is the same old story, expressed in one word-de. Eightfut. If over any one enjoys a tine May morning then such an one can enjoy the weather here: balmy, just cool enough to be pleasant; and while the middle of the day is warm and what some would call hot, yet, as I often wrote last year, not the unpleasant heat of the stifling riv so often experienced in the North; and after one winter and summer here any one from the North gets accli-

One enterprising firm in Jacksonville has engaged in the business of through shipments and vegetables, in refrigcrator cars, to Chicago, and reports come back of the safe arrival and good condition of the strawberries sent, and on the road six days, and sold at the top of the market. Point laces, duchesse, gaze or rose point, and combinations of these laces, are made into collarettes, and sometimes some point de Venise is added. With these collarettes a narrow frill of lace is worn standing around the neck and is permanently attached to it; a yard and a quarter of wider trimming lace is then added for rethering invide the then added for gathering inside the sleeves. For fully gathered frills for the neck and sleeves three and a half yards are required of duchesse, Honiton, or other heavy real lace, but of the lighter laces, such as Valenciennes, Mechlin, and the darned Oriental and Mauresque laces, six or seven yards are easily used, as these need to be very full to be effective, and the trills usually extend down the front of the basque, either in one or two rows, gathered to the edge of the batton-hole side of the dress, and allowed to fall with careful grace, without being fastened in a set jabot or in shell gathers.

With ladies who have but one set of real lace the choice remains for duchesse point such as is sold for $3 or $4 a yard. A Universal Language.

When the electric telegraph was first proposed to the Government it was reected for the "exhaustive" reason that it would not be wanted in time of peace, while the semaphore did all that was required in time of war. Since then, however, the electric telegraph has uself been found insufficient. In time of war the electric telegraph is supplemented by fire-signals, lamp-signals, and by a very claborate system of flag-I would like to give a lift in a signaling; and the want seems to be felt, vote to honest, gallant old Dick for since expression has been given to it in many quarters, of an international or interlinguistic code of signs for foreigners unable to communicate with one another by word of mouth. In an interesting contribution to the Nationa Review on the wild tribes of the Sierras. Miss Gordon Cummings tells us-firs that every tribe has a language of its own, known only to its members; and next, that "the curse of Babel would weigh heavily on the great Indian nation were it not for a silent language of signs which is used by all alike. It is frequently used even in family parties, or while on the march, or on hunting expeditions, or at other times when silence is doemed desirable." It is quite as clear as the methods of comm tion used in deaf and dumb asylums, and more "rapid, as certain signs are used to express whole phrases and symbolical ideas." White men who have become intimate with the Indians say that if a stranger could steal una-wares near an Indian camp he "might well marvel at the occasional bursts o laughter while not a voice was to be heard; yet every individual gathered round the camp-fire is all the while drinking in some very interesting story related by one of their number in the sign language." Now this is just the sort of sign-language that is wanted for
